

50 Plus Health

Description:

This website is "For us, by us". Amongst the myriad of health websites trying to be all things to all people, 50+Health is focused and exclusively for the 50+'s. We are the children of the 60's. We were the first generation to be influenced by television and the first to gain sexual freedom through the availability of the pill. Now in our 50's, we, the first teenagers, are socially and professionally active, and we are refusing to grow old! Being 50 today is very different to being 50+ in previous times. We have grown up with higher expectations than earlier generations: we were pioneers of a new age. But despite our zest for life we are still subject to the same problems as our forebears. Health is perhaps the most significant obstacle to our continued enjoyment of a long life. It has become an essential concern both for ourselves and our parents. 50+Health provides us with the resources for taking control of our own health and for seeking solutions for the probl
